Coronation of Pope Pius X an Imposing Ceremony.

St. Peter's Was Filled to Overflowing for the First Time in Its History.

MANY NOTED PEOPLE PRESENT

Rome, Aug. 10.—The ceremony of the coronation of Pope Pius X took place yesterday in the basilica of St. Peter's in the presence of the princes and high dignitaries of the church, diplomats and Roman nobles, and with all the solemnity and splendor associated with this, the most magnificent rite of the Roman Catholic church.

As Cardinal Macchi, the dean of the cardinal deacons placed the triple crown on the head of the venerable pontiff the throng of 70,000 persons gathered in the cathedral burst into unrestrained acclamation, the choir intoned a hymn of triumph and the bells of Rome rang out a joyful peal.

It is fifty-seven years since the Romans and Europe assisted in such a function as was held in St. Peter's yesterday. The great basilica, popularly supposed never to have been quite full, was overflowing with humanity. The papal throne, a bewildering mixture of gold, red and silver, was erected in front of the high altar.

All the available standing space within the cathedral was divided into sections by wooden barriers, which to a certain extent kept the vast crowd in order.

The ceremonies were very impressive, and the pope stood the ordeal well.

SHOT HIS SISTER.

Thought She and Marion Sutherland Were Eloping.

The Affair Happened in Graves County and Was an Accident.

A sensational shooting affray is reported from Graves county, in which Markon Sutherland, a young man of near Spring Creek, Graves county, and a brother of Mr. Arch Sutherland, the shoe merchant of this city, figured prominently.

Miss Venice Harper, a daughter of E. T. Harper of near Clear Springs, had attended a musical given at Marshal Walbert's residence, according to reports which reached the city, and after the entertainment had been concluded young Sutherland came after the girl in a buggy and started toward Paducah. The young lady's brother, Novice Walker, saw them leave and procuring a pistol and a horse started in pursuit, thinking that they were eloping. Near Pilgrim's Rest he came within pistol range and fired one shot at Sutherland, but struck his sister instead.

The ball penetrated her side and made a slight flesh wound. The buggy was stopped and the Sutherland youth got out and wrenched the pistol away from young Harper. The girl's father was notified and took her home. No arrests were made, but the affair created much excitement in that vicinity.

THE JUDGE'S HISTORY

A-Portion of Judge Sanders' Treatise Is Finished.

He Yesterday Began on "Paducah's Present"—Discussed August 8 Today.

SAYS PADUCAH IS ALL RIGHT

Judge D. L. Sanders in the police court this morning, in discussing a case against Jack Whitesides for running an immoral dance, stated that he had no occasion to change the opinion he announced some time ago that Paducah is one of the best and most moral cities for its size in the whole country. He cited the colored people's 8th of August celebration Saturday.

"Now, we have the fact that fully 10,000 strangers were in Paducah Saturday," he said, "and there was only one drunk reported, and only a few fights. There are about 25,000 inhabitants, and the 10,000 strangers made 35,000 people here, and yet there was only one drunk and not a single serious disturbance."

"I said some time ago that I would shortly give a few facts about Paducah in 'Paducah, Past, Present and Future.' Well, I have finished 'Paducah's Past,' and I yesterday started in on 'Paducah's Present,' and after that will take up her future and tell what I think that will be. I want to say now that I'll bet no other city in the country could have the people had here Saturday and show as few violations of the law. Yet you have heard a great deal lately about how bad Paducah is and how lax is the enforcement of the law. These colored people's celebrations have been tried in many cities in the state, but they had to be stopped because of the disturbances everywhere except in Paducah. The detectives who were here Saturday told me as much. They said there was never anywhere such good order as they have here."

Judge Sanders said the I. C. officials stated they sold over 6,000 tickets to Paducah Saturday. The N. C. and St. L. probably brought in nearly 2,000, the various boats equally as much, and hundreds of colored people were here from the country. It is estimated that at a very conservative estimate $20,000 was spent here during the day.

Judge Sanders does not know when he will complete his history, but hopes to do it soon, and says it will make a few people feel foolish.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

MRS. WILSTACH SUCCEEDED IN FRIGHTENING THE HIGHWAYMAN AWAY.

Saturday night about ten o'clock Mrs. Wilstach, of Adams street, was seized and a robbery attempted, but fortunately her cries brought help and the would-be robber fled.

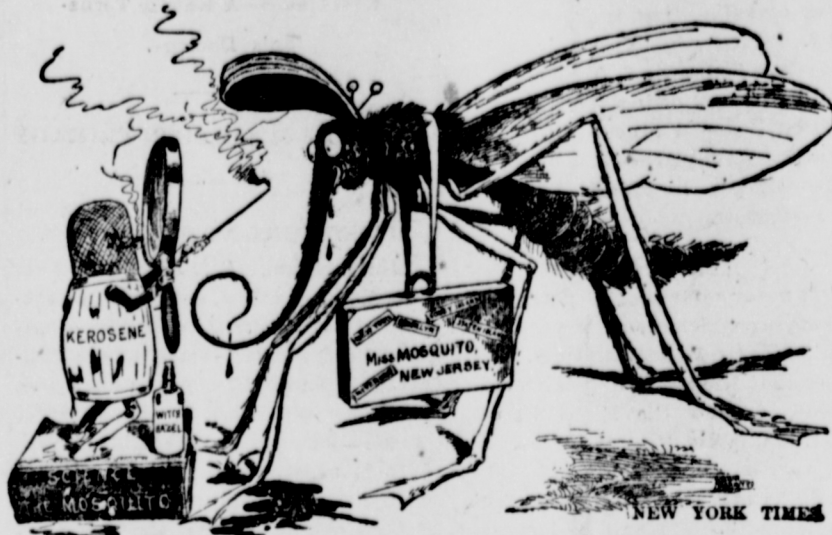

She was coming from the grocery when she noticed the boy walking in front of her slowly and with seeming interest. He went behind a fence and waited for her to approach but she crossed the street and the boy followed seizing her as she placed her foot on the curb to climb on the pavement. She cried and broke loose to run but was caught again. Neighbors were awakened and frightened the youth away. He was a white boy and apparently no more than 16 years of age. Mrs. Wilstach did not see him clearly and does not know whether she would recognize him again.

DOSE WAS FATAL.

MAYFIELD GIRL WHO ATTEMPTED SUICIDE SATURDAY DIES.

Mayfield, Ky., Aug. 10.—Effie Rutherford, the girl who took morphine Saturday with suicidal intent, died this morning at 9 o'clock. She was of a well known family, and the only cause is that she was, as she said, tired of life.

IN THE WAR OF EXTERMINATION THE 'SKEET SEEMS SEVERAL POINTS AHEAD.

WOUNDS WERE FATAL

Robert Smallman Died at the I. C. Hospital Yesterday.

Was Cut in a Brawl by Henry Temple of the County Over a Week Ago.

INQUEST NOT COMPLETE YET

Robert Smallman, engineer at the Temple mill at Maxon's, in the county, died yesterday morning at the Illinois Central hospital here from wounds inflicted with a knife by Henry Temple, his employer, in a brawl a week ago last Friday.

The injured man was brought to the city soon after the accident and an operation was performed to remove the knife blade from his backbone, where it broke off during the encounter. This was done successfully and for a few days the patient apparently improved, but last Friday he became worse and convulsions seized him, and from that time on he began sinking.

Justice Jesse Young, in the absence of Coroner Peal, who is away from the county, went down to hold an inquest, and heard some of the evidence, adjourning the inquest over until Wednesday. None of the evidence was made public, but it is said that it shows that Mr. Temple, owner of the mill, and Smallman, the engineer, were on the best of terms, and had been drinking beer together when the trouble came up. The cutting resulted purely from a drunken brawl, according to reports, and is regretted very much.

Mr. Temple has not been rearrested. He is under bond, and no steps will probably be taken to rearrest him until after the coroner's inquest.

The dead man was a well known man in the county and leaves a family. The remains were today buried at McKendree's.

Mr. Roy McKinney was painfully bruised while attempting to board a moving train at the Illinois Central depot Saturday evening to go to Hickman for Sunday. One leg was sprained, but not seriously.

FELL INTO THE RIVER

Heavy Traction Engine Crushes Stage Plank.

John Nelson and Others Carried into River and Nelson's Escape Was Miraculous.

HIS LEG IS BADLY MANGLED

John Nelson of Evansville, colored, a roustabout on the J. B. Richardson, had a miraculous escape from drowning last night early. A number of other roustabouts came near getting killed, and for some time there was great excitement in the vicinity of the wharfboat because it was believed several negroes had been killed or drowned.

A heavy traction engine, shipped from Evansville to Paducah was being unloaded. It was dragged across the wharfboat without accident, but while in the center of the stage plank of the upper wharfboat it suddenly broke through the heavy timbers while several roustabouts were pushing on it and fell into the river and turned over on its side.

Three men were carried with it. Two quickly scrambled out, but John Nelson disappeared. Presently the horrified spectators saw a bare hand come above the surface of the water, and hasty efforts were made to rescue the owner. It was found that Nelson was pinned underneath the engine, and Mate Bill Hunter and others snailly by heroic efforts pulled him loose so he could get his head above water, and saved him from drowning. His left leg when released from beneath the engine was found to be badly mangled, but not broken, and Drs. Robertson and Hoyer attended him. He was taken to Evansville this morning on the Richardson.

The engine was this morning pulled out of the river and up the hill by means of a large rope and the nigger engine on the boat, and was only slightly damaged by its fall into the river. It will cost about $75 to get a new stage plank.

Mrs. Will Kidd and son Clay left today for Diamond Springs.

WANTED, MORE BIDS

City Officials Unable to Accomplish Anything Yet.

Contractor Terrell Refuses to Sign the 'Brick Street Contract.

MONEY WILL BE FORFEITED

Contractor E. C. Terrell refused to sign the contract drawn up by City Solicitor Worten and submitted to him Saturday, but signed one attached to his bid, which the city would not sign. The city, it seems, will attempt to retain his $500 forfeit, and Mr. Terrell, it is understood, now threatens to sue for loss of profits on the job.

Mayor Yeiser has advertised for more bids—and the street improvement situation in Paducah is where it was the first of the year.

The rock on which the city and successful bidder split was the extras for excavations. The contractor, after securing the work, demanded extra pay for excavations and grouting, which would have made the total cost about $2,000 more than the bid would indicate on its face, and the city took the position that, as the excavations have to be made before the street can be built, Mr. Terrell would certainly have to make them at his own expense. Had the contract been drawn to embody simply the bid, as Mr. Terrell wanted it, without saying anything about paying extra for the excavations, etc., he would have signed it, but the city solicitor was smooth enough to insert in the contract the stipulation that no extra charge should be made for the excavations and grouting, and Mr. Terrell, who under this provision would have been unable to sue the city and collect extra for the cost of excavations declined to sign the contract.

Solicitor Worten stated this morning that the result is Mr. Terrell has forfeited his $500 and will be liable to the city in addition for any cost of the improvement over the amount he agreed to do the work for. It is not known what the next step will be. Mayor Yeiser has advertised for new bids.

BELKNAP'S CANVASS

The Next Governor Returns From His Trip East

He Will Make a Personal Canvass of the State of Kentucky This Fall.

PROSPECTS ARE EXCELLENT

Louisville Aug. 10.—Col. Morris K. Belknap has returned from his trip East greatly improved in health and announces that he will open his campaign as Republican nominee for governor at Mumfordsville the first week in September.

Col. Belknap will make a personal canvass of the state and expects to accomplish a great deal. He has been greatly encouraged lately. Everything indicates victory for the Republican ticket. Col. Belknap will prove a leader hard to down for he will receive the solid support of the Republican party and the votes of hundreds and thousands of disgruntled Democrats all over the state as well as of thousands of men who want a good business administration.

Col. Belknap will be aided in his campaign by some of the best speakers and foremost politicians in the state and will certainly conduct one of the most active, successful campaigns in the history of Kentucky.

CASE NOT YET DECIDED.

Justice J. H. Burnett has not yet decided the case against Officer Joe Woods for alleged assault on Jim Earn heart.

MANY RAISED BILLS

Shrewd Swindler Got in His Work Saturday.

Passed Successfully Several Raised Notes and Was Almost Caught Once.

HE MADE GOOD HIS ESCAPE

The aggregation of colored visitors in Paducah Saturday boasted of a skillful counterfeiter, and one who seems to have turned loose his spurious money with a lavish hand. The police have been notified today of no less than four raised bills, three of which were passed successfully and one discovered in time to prevent its being accepted.

A yellow negro nearly six feet tall went to Thornton's saloon on Washington street, in Phil Stephen's old stand, and put out a bill that looked at a glance like a $10 note.

The bartender saw that it was a raised bill at once, and when the negro perceived that the attempted fraud was discovered he ran, leaving the bogus money with the bartender.

This morning two of those who had privileges at the new fair ground celebration reported that they had been swindled. Another discovered the imposition in time to prevent being defrauded.

One of those who took a raised bill was the man in charge of the merry-go-round. When he settled up with the local managers, however, he saw at once that one of the $10 bills was raised and refused to accept it, and the loss had to be sustained by the local committee.

An old darkey who had a lunch stand on the grounds was also victimized, and the man who had the beer privileges was treated likewise.

There is no telling how many more of the raised bills were passed. The workmanship is all reported to be very bad, and it does not require much examination to detect the changes made in the bills. The bill taken in at the merry-go-round was badly colored in places and grased in others, and evidently intended to be passed in a crowd when there was no time to examine it.

One of the bills was a $2 bill with "10" pasted over the "2."

The police have a good description of the man who attempted to pass the last named bill in Thornton's, but have little hope of catching him.

COUNTY COURT.

EXTENDED COUNTY SCHOOL TERM TO BE VOTED ON.

County court convened this morning, but little business was transacted. The will of Stephen M. S. Campbell was filed for probate. He leaves to his wife $500 and the remainder of his estate to be divided equally between his wife, son and daughter.

Will Mack, colored, of Atlanta, Ga., aged 23, and Mattie Washington of Hazelwood county, aged 30, were licensed to wed. It will make the first marriage of the groom and the second of the bride.

The petition from the residents of the county asking for an extension of the county school term two months was read and an election ordered for the regular November election.

Otto Rupertus was adjudged a lunatic and ordered sent to the asylum.

A new road was established leading from the Mayfield and Metropolis road to Fisher school house road on the Mount Zion road.

The appraisement of the estate of W. L. Rudd was filed. The stock of goods in Livingston county was appraised at $2,118.63.

Mr. Charles Denker, the grocer of Ninth and Washington street, had the index finger of his right hand broken this morning while attempting to saddle a broncho at his home on Clark street. Dr. B. B. Griffith attended him.

Miss Bertha Martin has returned to her home in Charleston, Mo., after a visit to her aunt, Mrs. H. L. Walters.

PLAYED LIKE AMATEURS.

Yesterday's game of ball at Wallace park resulted in a victory for Paducah by a score of 14 to 4, and was a rather poor exhibition of ball playing. Hopkinsville was never in it from the start, and the spectators were greatly surprised at the poor playing of the usually fast "Hoppers." Bomar, their crack pitcher, was finally pounded out of the box in the seventh inning, but too late to prevent defeat. Some of their men got left at Hoptown, and some of them do not play on Sunday, while two are crippled, and these were contributing causes to their defeat.

Paducah put up a good game, and the playing of LeCompte at short was a feature. Best pitched a good game and Clifford caught in his usual fine style. A large crowd witnessed the contest, and the clubs both left last night for Hopkinsville, where they play the last game of the series today.

Game by innings:

FIRST INNING.

SECOND INNING.

Hopkinsville—Lynsky popped out to Clifford. Keeler fanned. Farris hit to third and got base on fumble. Bomar hit to left for base. Morris hit for a base and Farris scored. Bomar

OGDEN HAS QUIT.

"It never rains but it pours" is an old saying which seems peculiarly applicable to the Henderson team. Bolin, King and Richards quit almost in a bunch, and now the last, but not the least, is Captain "Kid" Ogden. For various reasons "Kid" thought that it would be best for him to sever his connection with the team, so last night, with the consent of the management, he handed in his resignation. This will be bad news for the fans, as Ogden has been one of the steadiest players and most popular men on the team. He is always in the game and has a happy faculty of making at least one star play every game. He realizes that spectators pay to see a game and not a squabble, and for that reason he plays and insists upon his men playing clean ball. His resignation will be another blow to the disabled Henderson Gleaner.

NOTES.

Former Manager Bassett of Hopkinsville umpired yesterday's game, and did it well.

Lynsky of the Hoptown team has a badly swollen finger, Morris has a boil, and three or four of the club got left at Hopkinsville, which makes their defeat yesterday somewhat excusable.

Street, the Hopkinsville catcher, is not playing the game he did at the beginning of the season, but then he does not have to. If he could get into one of the bigger leagues it would probably suit him pretty well, and it is understood he could if he could get loose from Hoptown.

Ben Boyd's colored club took three straights from the St. Louis team, two Saturday. One was played Saturday afternoon and in the ninth inning the score was 6 to 1 in favor of St. Louis, when the Paducah club had a batting rally and beat the players from the Future Great out.

The L. A. L. team defeated the strong Metropolis team at that place Sunday in a game which was almost a continuous wrangle after the fifth inning, by the score of 6 to 3. Bralio and Hays were the battery for the local team and Davis and Willis for the Metropolis team. Umpire Owsley handled the indicators and gave a neat exhibition.

A number of fans predict that the Clarksville club will easily win the pennant. A man who claims to know and was in the city yesterday states that Clarksville's payroll is $1,500 a month, and that they will spend $1,000 more a month to get the winning team. It is reported they will have a number of crack players from the Nashville team in a few days.

Henry Dicke, the local pitcher, pitched another winning game for the Katterjohn Construction Company team yesterday at Princeton. The Construction Company boys played the Princeton team and defeated it by a score of 14 to 13. Dicke did most all the work and the runs secured came in two successive innings. Dicke fanned out fifteen men and gave only seven hits, the runs being made on errors principally.

THE WALK COLLAPSED

And Hundreds of Spectators Were Spilled.

Many Fatally Hurt at Philadelphia Ball Game—A Kansas Tornado's Damage.

ANOTHER MISSISSIPPI PRIMARY

MANY HURT AT BALL GAME.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10.—Four persons were killed, twelve were probably fatally injured and 150 others were hurt, some seriously, at the Philadelphia National League baseball park Saturday afternoon, when the walk which overhung the left field bleachers fell to the street, carrying more than 200 spectators with it.

Nearly 100 persons received fractures of the limbs, lacerations of the head, broken noses and contusions of the head and body, but their condition is not serious.

Two games were scheduled between Boston and Philadelphia and the attraction drew over 10,000 persons to the ball park. The accident occurred during the fourth inning of the second game, and was indirectly due to a quarrel between two drunken men in the street.

The National League stands are built of steel and brick, the brick wall extending entirely around the grounds. At the top of the left field seats and extending from the grand stand to the end of the bleachers there was a walk about three feet wide, which overhung the street. It was this walk that gave way under the heavy weight

Men who were standing on the walk were attracted by a disturbance in the street. They leaned over the side of the railing to see what was the trouble, and this drew the attention of other spectators, who rushed to the walk to see what was going on below. The walk became overcrowded, and 200 feet of it fell to the sidewalk, twenty feet below.

There were 3,000 persons sitting in the left field bleachers, and the roar made by the falling timber caused a panic. The spectators made a rush down the stand and into the field. Men and boys climbed over one another in an effort to escape, and several persons were hurt in the crush. Outside the grounds for an entire block in Fifteenth street, from Huntington street to Lehigh avenue, men and boys were writhing in pain. Some were buried under the wreckage, others were lying in the gutters and dozens were stretched out in Fifteenth street on the car tracks.

TORNADO IN KANSAS.

Pittsburg, Kan., Aug. 10.—A tornado passed through the thickly populated mining district north and east of Pittsburg, destroying hundreds of houses, mine tipples and buildings of every description, leveling to a mass of wreckage a large portion of every camp between the Devlin Miller shaft, north of Frontenac, and the Morgan shaft, on the state line, and converting into ruin a strip of thickly populated territory eight miles long and two miles wide, and leaving death and desolation in its wake. At least two persons were killed and fully sixty injured in the storm, and perhaps many others were injured whose names have not been procured.

ANOTHER PRIMARY NECESSARY

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 10.—Although one or two counties are yet to be heard from, Vardeman men now admit that a second primary for governor is necessary between Vardeman and Critz. Vardeman has a lead of about 3,000 in the state, with 126 electoral votes to 108 for Critz, while 134 are necessary. The second primary will be held August 27.

GOVERNMENT BOAT SUNK.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 10.—The quarter boat used on the Wabash river by the corps of the United States engineers making the preliminary survey of the river, struck a snag near New Harmony, Ind., and sank in ten feet of water. The boat is valued at $10,000.

Cold English Homes.

An American woman in London writes: "I have said that I am at a loss to know whether the lack of heat in English homes and business buildings is caused by hardness or stinginess. I used to think it the latter till I found numerous delightful English friends objected to my own heated home. Actually some of them 'cut' me every winter so far as calling on me is concerned, because they say my rooms are too 'stuffy and hot.'"

GOOD BLOOD SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

You know when rich, red blood is coursing through the veins, for it shows in the brightness of the eye, the beauty and clearness of the complexion, the smooth, fair skin, and robust, healthy constitution. It is good blood that imparts strength and energy to the body and keeps it in a state of healthfulness and vigor. Good blood is the foundation of good health, and to be physically and mentally sound it must be kept pure and untainted.

People with good blood possess strong, steady nerves and are blest with good appetites and digestion, and enjoy sound, refreshing sleep. If we could always maintain the purity of the blood then we might enjoy perpetual health, but it becomes infected and poisoned and most of the ills that afflict humanity and undermine the constitution are caused by an impoverished or polluted condition of this vital fluid.

When the blood is diseased the skin loses its healthy appearance, and the complexion, its freshness and beauty and becomes red and rough and full of pimples and blotches. Itching, scaly eruptions, blackheads, boils and rashes break out upon the body when the blood is too poor or too thin and acid, and is not supplying proper nourishment to the system. Debility, poor appetite, bad digestion, restless sleep and nervousness more often come from sluggish, impure blood than any other cause. To build up the blood, restore its lost properties and make it rich and nutritious again is the only rational treatment, and the proper way to get rid of skin troubles. There is no remedy like S. S. S. to accomplish this and it does it promptly and thoroughly.

S. S. S. antidotes and removes from the blood all poisons and humors, and restores it to a normal, healthy condition, and invigorates and tones up the general health. When rich, red blood is again flowing through your veins all skin eruptions disappear, the appetite improves, the complexion clears and you get rid of those miserable depressing feelings and nervousness, and enjoy once more the blessings of good health. S. S. S. is nature's remedy for all blood and skin diseases. It contains no minerals whatever, but is guaranteed purely vegetable.

NEW I. C. DIVIDEND THE FIEND CAUGHT

The Ninety Seventh is Payable Sept. 1st.

The Showing One of the Best of any Road in the Country.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 10.—The half-yearly dividend of the Illinois Central road, which has been declared payable September 1, will be the ninety-seventh continuous dividend paid by that company. It is on the basis of 6 per cent for the year. The Illinois Central is one of the very few roads in the country which have never passed through the hands of a receiver, and which have such a record for regularity in dividend payments. It is stated authoritatively that the road could stand a shrinkage of 24 per cent in its present earnings without interfering in any way with the present rate of dividends. In the last period of depression the earnings of the road fell off only about 8 per cent from the previous high level. The net fixed charges of the road are $4,799,143, as shown in its last annual report, or $1,150 a mile on 4276 miles of road.

The annual report for the year ended June 30, 1902, showed gross earnings of $9545 per mile; and the report for the fiscal year just ended will show about $10,200 per mile. The road earns, therefore, a margin of $2400 per mile over dividend requirements. Consequently earnings must shrink about 24 per cent before the present rate of dividends is endangered. The capital stock has been increased from $60,000,000 in 1901 to $95,000,000 at present.

VALUABLE LOG.

IT WAS SHIPPED FROM AFRICA TO LOUISVILLE.

Pensacola, Fla., August 10.—The most valuable mahogany log ever imported through a Gulf port was brought here today on the Spanish steamer Ida. The log is only thirty-four feet in length and twenty-seven inches in thickness, yet its value is $2,080.

It was purchased in Africa for the firm of C. C. and J. R. Mengel, of Louisville, and is of the variety known as the figured mahogany, which is to be found only in Africa, and is now very scarce there.

It was shipped from Africa to Liverpool; thence to Cienfuegos, and from there brought to Pensacola by the steamer Ida. The wood is used for the outside covering of very fine pianos, organs and pieces of furniture, being boiled into a sort of varnish and spread on the furniture to a thickness of a sixteenth of an inch. It will be shipped out tomorrow to Louisville.

WATCH FOR A CHILL.

However slight at this time of the year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malaria. A disposition to yawn and an all-tired-out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purified the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Memorials of Value.
A commendable enterprise is being organized in Manchester, England, at present, in the shape of a bazaar to raise funds to endow a hospital bed in honor of Robert Burns, and a child's cot, in honor of Sir Walter Scott.

Homer Ward, Wanted at Clarksville Under Arrest.

Every Odd Fellow in the Country Was Interested in His Capture.

Nashville, Aug. 10.—Homer D. Ward, who for six months has been a fugitive from justice on the charge of the criminal assault on two girls, aged 11 and 13 years, inmates of the Odd Fellows' Home near Clarksville, of which he was superintendent, was arrested in Alameda, Cal.

Ward disappeared from the home January 23, after practically confessing his guilt to his wife, and leaving her his resignation to be handed to the trustees. Since then a relentless search for the man has been kept up, $500 reward being an incentive for the officers. Odd Fellows the country over interested themselves in the case. The search extended to Hawaii, and twenty-five suspects in all have been arrested.

Recently Ward was located in Alameda holding a responsible position with a leading firm. Warrants and requisition papers were quietly prepared and sent West by Nashville officers. Ward's former home was in Jackson, but he was educated here. He is but 25 years old and had held his position only six months when he disappeared.

PHYSICIAN AND DRUGGISTS.

Ferd & Sturgeon, a prominent drug firm at Rocky Hill Station, Ky., writes: "We were requested by Dr. G. B. Snigley to send for Herbine for the benefit of our customers. We ordered three dozen in December, and we are glad to say Herbine has given such great satisfaction that we have duplicated this order three times, and today we gave your salesman another order. We beg to say Dr. G. B. Snigley takes pleasure in recommending Herbine." 50c bottle at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

MORE AROTCIO RELIEF

EXPEDITIONS.

New York, August 10.—The non-arrival of the Swedish Antarctic expedition under Otto Nordenskiold, has occasioned the equipment of three relief expeditions, for which preparations are now being made at Stockholm. The Swedish relief expedition has purchased the Norwegian whaler, Brithief, and it is now being converted at Stockholm for its new purpose. The command will be given to Captain Olaf Gviden, and it will probably depart in September.

There is also a French relief expedition, the originator of which is M. Pierre Gifford Saip, who is at present in Stockholm making arrangements for the departure of the ship Francois within the next two weeks.

Finally, the Argentine military attaché in London, Captain Iriaz, is also visiting Stockholm at present organizing a collaboration between the Swedish expedition and the relief expedition which the Argentine Republic is equipping. This last will sail on the corvette Uruguay, and will join scientific purposes to the task of rescuing Nordenskiold.

OWENSBORO ELKS

PREPARING TO BUILD A FINE BUILDING.

Owensboro Elks are also preparing to erect a fine building. The Inquirer says:

J. M. Whitehead, the architect, is at work on plans for a five story building for the Elks. It will show by far the largest and handsomest building in Owensboro, and the first real city building in all of its parts ever erected here. The front will be of stone, pressed brick and steel, of the most appropriate design. The lower floors will be used for business houses and those above will be for offices, with the Elks' lodge and rooms on the fifth floor.

Each floor will be complete and there will be no dependence between one part of the building and any other. A fire proof and burglar proof safety vault will run from bottom to top, and electric fans will be placed in every room. Passenger elevators will operate in both front and rear, and taken altogether it will be a building of which the city as well as the Elks will be proud.

CAUTION!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cents size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

CHANGE OF AIR.

The quasi-miraculous benefits which are associated with change of air in the popular belief are in reality derived when they accrue from change of environment, and change of habits of life. In a great many instances the measures of benefit obtainable would be as effectually secured, and at much less expense, by mere change of habits, without the fatigue and inconvenience of change of domicile. The overwrought city clerk might advantageously take to driving a cab, while the cabman would find it a relief to discharge for a time the functions of caretaker of a deserted house. Many an overworked physician would experience a distinct improvement were he to qualify as chauffeur, with no other object in view than to cover space, and there are few domestic servants whose health would not be sensibly modified by a brief experience as milkmaid or gleaner, should the season lend itself to that pursuit. The "literary gent," whose brain is sterile of new ideas, might recuperate his energies by usurping the role of a sick man and remaining in bed for a week or two.—The Medical Review.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Paxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them, which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them; the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Mischief Done by Squirrel.
A half dozen men worked all one day in a Greenwood (Me.) mill recently trying to get it started, and two of them continued the next day. In despair they took the engine to pieces. Inside the cylinder were several quarts of nuts, bits of bark and other fine stuff. A squirrel had gone in through the exhaust pipe, and had discovered an excellent place for a winter storehouse.

CURED PARALYSIS.

W. S. Baily, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work." 25c, 50c and $1 bottles at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

THE GOVERNOR AND ORGANIZED LABOR.

Gov. Beckham's course in office has been largely influenced by a desire for re-election. The constitution was designed to take that temptation out of the path of any governor, but technically the governor is eligible, with the result that the evils have arisen against which it was believed the constitution protected the state.

The governor has been most active in playing politics, and he has been most desirous to secure the labor vote, but he has not been able to blind the men who have been behind the labor party in Kentucky. The Journal of Labor is edited by James McGill. It has insisted that Gov. Beckham must necessarily stand by Allie Young and his associates, who managed to clear the track and make the nomination of Beckham inevitable. It refused to believe that Gov. Beckham had made his alliance with the Officeholders' trust of Louisville to destroy Allie Young, but the Journal of Labor was convinced by the proceedings in Frankfort last Monday, and so it says:

Gov. Beckham stood in the bow of the boat Monday and issued his orders to his subjects. He has become participants in the robbery of those Democratic candidates of the Fifth district, who obeyed the orders of the State Central Committee by keeping out of the mock primary of May 26, declared postponed, and in the disfranchisement of from twelve to fifteen thousand Democratic voters, who also obeyed the orders of the highest authority, the State Central Committee, by remaining away from the polls.

The Democratic state ticket is doomed. Its death knell has been sounded from one end of the state to the other. The head of the ticket has, by his supine and ignoble action, made of him a mere pawn to the Louisville machine and office trust. The course of the present crew is the course of a rudderless ship, which will inevitably founder upon the rocks of dissension that stand in its way. Organized labor of Kentucky can never be expected to support such a party, which has for its platform one plank only, "government by injunction."

The Democratic state ticket ought to be defeated. It has back of it no popular support. The people have had no part in its construction. It was the result of barter and treachery. The bosses of Louisville are now in the saddle, and they are determined to have prompt and complete obedience from the state. Any disposition to check the power of the Louisville political combine will be treated as an act of insubordination. If the people of Kentucky desire to maintain control of the state government they will not elect Mr. Beckham to a second term.—Louisville Post.

PORTABLE STABLE.

I. C. MAN TO MANUFACTURE SOMETHING NEW.

Mr. C. W. Wooldridge, the I. C. patternmaker, has completed plans for a portable stable he will shortly build. This is a new thing and will no doubt prove a success. The stable will be put together by bolts and will be built in sections so that removal is a question of a few hours only. He expects to build them during leisure time.

Heart Trouble Baffled Doctors.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

There is nothing more necessary to health than sleep and rest. If these are denied you, if you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, there is an affection of the nerves plainly present. If your heart is weak, or there is an inherited tendency in that direction, your weakened nerves will soon affect your heart's action as to bring on serious, chronic trouble. Dr. Miles' Nervine is a nerve tonic, which quiets the nerves, so that sleep may come, and it quickly restores the weakened nerves to health and strength. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a great blood and heart tonic which regulates the action of the heart, enriches the blood and improves the circulation.

"Some time ago I was suffering severely with heart trouble. At times my heart would seem to stop beating and at others it would beat loudly and very fast. Three to four hours sleep each night in ten months was all I could get. One week in last September I never closed my eyes. I got Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure at a drug store in Lawrenceburg, after spending $300.00 in medicines and doctors in Louisville, Shelbyville, Frankfort, Cincinnati and Lawrenceburg, and in three days have derived more benefit from the use of your remedies than I got from all the doctors and their medicines. I think everybody ought to know of the marvelous power contained in your remedies."—W. H. HUGHES, Fox Creek, Ky.

FREE TRIPS TO ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR. ALL EXPENSES OF THE 120 MOST POPULAR SCHOOL TEACHERS IN THE STATE PAID.

School children and public generally invited to vote to determine the most popular in every county. Votes ten cents each, ten cast at one time. All money over and above trip expenses of teachers to go into erection of the Kentucky Building and full display of the State's products and resources at the Fair, the Legislature having failed to make an appropriation. Every educator in the State, whether teacher in public or private schools, or member of faculty of academy, college or university, medical, dental or theological institution, protestant or catholic denominational school, is eligible to election. Members of the Educational Exhibit Committee alone excepted.

Names of all school children voting to be enrolled in the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Kentucky will have an educational exhibit occupying 2,500 square feet of space in the Palace of Education. The Exposition is to be the greatest international event in the world's history. The 120 teachers chosen will be lucky indeed in being tendered this trip to the Fair. Every county elects its own most popular educator. The county outside of Jefferson casting the largest number of votes will be allowed to send two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular.

THE VOTES WILL BE TEN CENTS EACH, TEN CONSTITUTING A BALLOT. At ten cents each every school child in the State will be able to cast at least one vote for his or her favorite teacher. But the voting will not be confined to school children.

PARENTS OF PUPILS OR ANY OF THEIR FRIENDS MAY VOTE. The purpose of the Association being to elect the most popular school teacher in each county, as so considered by the public generally, as well as by the school children. Ballots contain ten spaces, so clubs of ten pupils may be arranged and each giving ten cents be credited with his or her vote. If one person desires to cast ten votes, it may be done by writing his or her name on one of the spaces and remitting one dollar. It is not required that the name of the person voting be given at all. All of the spaces for voters' names may be left blank. The Association wants, however, to enroll in the Kentucky Building at St. Louis next year the name of every child who cast one or more votes in the contest. Pupils are asked therefore to sign their names plainly to the ballots.

ALL EXPENSES OF THE TEACHERS WILL BE PAID BY THE ASSOCIATION. This will include railroad transportation from Louisville to St. Louis and return, board at one of the best hotels in the city for six days and admission to the exposition grounds for six days.

THREE PARTIES WILL BE MADE UP FROM THE MOST POPULAR TEACHERS to make the trip more profitable and more enjoyable. Each of these parties will consist of forty (40) teachers. This would mean a total of 120 teachers, but as there are only 119 counties in Kentucky, the Association has decided to elect two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular—to go from that county—Jefferson excepted—which casts the greatest number of votes in the contest.

ALL TEACHERS IN THE STATE STAND ON AN EQUAL FOOTING in this contest. The teacher with only twenty pupils may receive more votes than the teacher with five or six times as many enrolled in his or her school, because the voting is not confined to children. The public will be an important factor. Votes may be cast for any person who taught school during 1902 or is teaching now. This gives the teacher of a five months' school, which closed in November or December, the opportunity to be voted for during the vacation period.

ANY NUMBER OF BALLOTS MAY BE CAST AT ONE TIME. There is no limit. The more dollars sent in for any one teacher the more votes he or she will be credited with.

ONE DOLLAR CASTS TEN VOTES; TWO DOLLARS CASTS TWENTY VOTES; THREE DOLLARS CASTS THIRTY VOTES; FOUR DOLLARS CASTS FORTY VOTES; FIVE DOLLARS CASTS FIFTY VOTES; TEN DOLLARS CASTS A HUNDRED VOTES; ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS CASTS ONE THOUSAND VOTES.

All of the money received in this contest, over and above that used in defraying expenses of the 120 most popular teachers of the State on their trips to the World's Fair, will go for the erection of a Kentucky Building at the exposition; so every voter in this contest may have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has aided a worthy cause.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTENTANTS WILL BE PRINTED FREQUENTLY in each county to show his or her friends how the race is being run. Begin voting now for your favorite school teacher. The votes will be counted under the supervision of the Educational Exhibit Committee of the Association. The personnel of this committee is as follows: Prof. H. G. Brownell, Louisville, Chairman; Prof. H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Prof. R. P. Halleck, Louisville; Prof. W. H. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. F. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Dinwiddie, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Berea; Dr. B. B. Hinton, Louisville; Dr. E. V. Mullins, Louisville; Dr. Arthur Yager, Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Froge, Frankfort; Prof. C. J. Crabbe, Ashland; Prof. McHenry Rhoads, Owensboro; Prof. T. S. Alley, Bellevue; Prof. C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Prof. Ross Spencer, Louisville; Miss Fattie S. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily E. Bracken, Louisville, and Mrs. M. B. Tucker, Louisville. Members of the Educational Committee are not eligible to election in this contest.

REMEMBER EVERY COUNTY ELECTS ITS OWN FAVORITE TEACHER. Competition between counties only applies to the race for the 120th trip, the county outside of Jefferson, casting the largest total number of votes being granted the distinction of sending two teachers. The result will be announced in every paper in the state, and, in addition to this, a congratulatory message will go to the teacher elected in each county. Later the details of the trip will be arranged, each teacher chosen being given the privilege of selecting the month—June, July or August, 1904—in which he or she wants to make the trip.

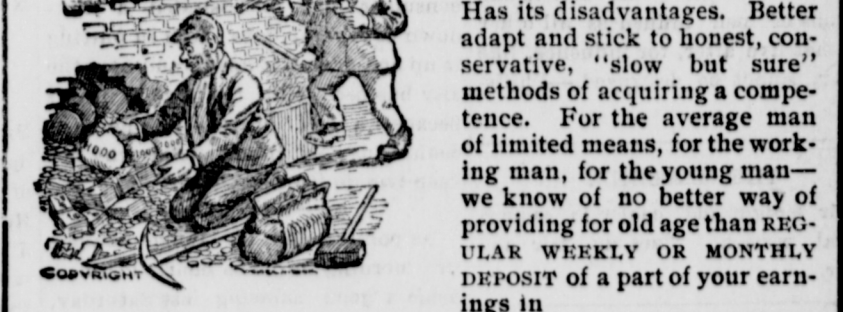

CLIP OUT THIS BALLOT, FILL UP BLANKS AND MAIL WITH $1.

I cast TEN votes for _____ as the most popular teacher in _____ county. ONE DOLLAR ENCLOSED.

10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c. 10c.

Voters are not required to sign their names, but the Association wants all school children voting to do so, as it will enroll them in the Kentucky Building.

Voters have the option of sending ballots direct to the Secretary of the Association or to the paper from which clipped. Additional ballots may be obtained by getting extra copies of this paper. Remittances must be made by certified check, registered letter, 1 cent postage, express or postal money order, or in currency at sender's risk. Address all communications to R. E. THE SAME OLD STORY.

The outlook for a fair trial in the Caleb Powers case at Georgetown does not appear bright. The trials in the Goebel assassination cases have thus far all been political trials in which the men summoned on the juries were invariably of a political faith likely to mete out the severest punishment to the accused, on evidence that would not convict a stray dog with an unprejudiced jury, and this one bids fair to be no exception. The evidence has invariably been such as to appeal to the prejudices and passions rather than the reason, and much of that which has not proven perjury was wholly incompetent, as decided subsequently by the court of appeals. After a number of reversals of these trials, which should not be dignified by the name, we find the commonwealth now entering another trial—on the eve of election. The defendant asked a continuance because important witnesses were absent, but was overruled. It is reasonable to presume that Caleb Powers would not want to remain in any longer than possible, and not desire a continuance if he was prepared for a trial. The election is coming on, however, and no doubt, in some quarters at least, it is expected to make political capital out of the trial, hence the trial must be held. But this is not the worst feature of the affair. It is claimed in the dispatches, an not denied, that all twelve of the jurors are Democrats, and that out of the first 100 men summoned by the sheriff only two were Republicans. If the jury that tried Caleb Powers were composed of Republicans, and he should be acquitted, the Democratic press would at once claim that politics did it. When they persistently pack the juries in these Goebel cases with Democrats, however, and the defendant is convicted, they promptly deprecate a suggestion that politics had anything to do with the impression made on the minds of the jury. The Republicans desire the murderer of Senator Goebel punished, but they do not desire innocent men punished. In such trials, as in the elections under the Goebel law, nothing is left to chance.

NEEDED, A FEW BUSINESS MEN.

It begins to look as if the city will not be able to start work on the brick streets this summer, if this year. The work should have been begun long ago and finished by this time. For several months the two boards have been dilly dallying along "advertising for bids" and then rejecting them, and today we find no more progress made than before the levy was made. Outside contractors have expressed no desire to bid on the work, because it is claimed favoritism is likely to be shown friends of the administration, and there is already talk of litigation over the contract awarded a few days ago. If the public needed any evidence of the incompetency and lack of business tact of the administration, it could find plenty of it in the thoroughly disgusting and futile efforts to let the street improvement contract.

This is as good evidence as could be desired or presented. Our officials seem unable to cope with even the simplest business proposition. They should now get down to work and evidence their sincerity by asking for bids from only experienced contractors, who have built brick streets before and know something about the work. Outside contractors are disgusted with the lack of business methods of the administration, judging from the number of bids in the last time they were opened—only one. Such an inexcusable lack of ability as the administration has displayed ever since it went into office, and especially in the manner it has handled the street improvement affair, certainly calls for some kind of rebuke at the hands of the people. It will doubtless be given at the polls in November.

Some time ago the city talked of "farming out" the light plant. The general opinion seems to be, from expressions heard on all sides, that if the plant can't be run any better than the city runs it now it is due the public to farm it out at once, or do something with it that will not necessitate its being shut down every time a screw gets loose. It was shut down for weeks because something "burned out;" then the city, to accommodate a local inventor, let him put up a smoke consumer that necessitated a shut-down of several days both in putting it up and taking it down, and now the city has been dark for several nights because a belt broke. If one belt could cause so much delay why not keep two on hand hereafter?

As pointed out by Judge Sanders this morning in police court, Paducah made a good showing last Saturday, when there were 10,000 strangers in the city, all colored people. Their conduct was most creditable, and there were very few arrests. It also shows that Paducah has good police protection and that the people as a whole are law-abiding and law-respecting. Judge Sanders' forthcoming figures on Paducah's moral condition will prove extremely interesting, and will show that Paducah is often unjustly criticized and given a reputation she doesn't deserve.

The Democratic city primary is to be held a month from today, and unless the candidates soon begin appearing there will be no one to run for some of the offices. If expressions heard on the street every day count for anything, however, it will not make much difference whether anyone runs in the primary or not.

Former Vice President Adlai Stevenson, like many other prominent Democrats, has retired from politics and refused to be interviewed on Democratic presidential possibilities. None of them likes to talk about Democratic politics these days.

Did Not See an Approaching Engine and Was Run Over and Killed.

A FEW MINOR ACCIDENTS

Henry Foster, a colored section foreman employed in the local I. C. yards, was run over and killed yesterday morning near the dispatcher's office while oiling a switch.

Foster had his back turned towards the coal chute and was busy oiling the switch and did not hear an approaching switch engine which was backing away from the coal chute. The engineer did not see Foster and before the latter was aware had borne down upon him. Foster was cut in two across the thighs and both hands were caught and cut off. His remains were taken to a local undertaking shop and later shipped to Hazel, Calloway county, for burial.

Foster leaves a wife and two children and was about 35 years old. He was well known here and a hard working man. The engine which killed him was No. 5, a big freight engine which was being used for switching purposes. It was in charge of Engineer Morrison and Fireman Mundy.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was accidental death.

Master Louis Townsend, who had a knee wrenched several weeks ago by falling off his bicycle, is better and will soon be able to walk as well as ever.

Mrs. Binford, at Fulton, is fast recovering from the pistol ball wound inflicted by her husband, who mistook her for a burglar, and will recover.

Mr. Tom Long of the marine ways is off duty with a painfully mashed foot, received by an iron tongue falling on him.

Tom Porteous, who was injured by a marble slab falling on his foot, is improving.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS AND TENANTS.

Now is the time to have your service connections put in if you expect to heat your building by steam in the future on the line of the new brick streets, as it will be impossible to have them put in after they commence to do the work. Don't wait too long, but see our superintendent.

Missionary Quartette Holds Service at Broadway M. E. Church

Many Ministers Away on Vacations—
No Meeting of Ministerial Association

An interesting service was held at Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning by Rev. C. A. Waterfield, of Hickman, Rev. H. C. Johnson and Rev. J. C. Thomas, of Memphis. Rev. J. C. Wilson, who was to have been with them to form what is known as the Memphis Conference Missionary Quartette, could not be here.

Rev. Mr. Thomas preached an excellent sermon, and the three furnished music for the service. They are making a tour of the Memphis conference embracing the churches of West Tennessee and Western Kentucky, as far north as Paducah, in the interest of missions.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will meet Tuesday evening at the association building. Some plans of work for the next association year, which will begin in September, will be presented by Secretary Stuart B. Hanna.

Rev. Thomas J. Newell, of the Broadway Methodist church will leave Tuesday for a two weeks vacation, and his church will be closed for two Sundays.

The regular weekly meeting of the Ministerial association was not held this morning on account of the absence of so many of the ministers from the city.

Many of the Paducah churches are now closed, on account of their pastors being away on vacations.

The steam heating company today began the work of making a few extensions in its system. It has a force of men at work running the pipes through the Palmer house alley. It is expected that considerable work will be done by the company before fall, as many connections will have to be made if the streets are paved.

CAN'T HELP IT
COFFEE NERVES ALWAYS ON EDGE.

The easy way to get rid of coffee nerves is to quit the coffee and drink well made Postum Food Coffee in its place.

When the Postum is thoroughly boiled it furnishes a rich tasting food drink and it is then easy and pleasant to shift from the drug to the food coffee.

A Washington lady says: "For a long time I suffered so from nervous headache and was so weak and worn-out all the time that I was hardly able to do my housework. Every little thing worried me so, and the noise of my two little children almost drove me wild. I tried my best to be kind and patient with them, but it seemed the harder I tried the crosser I grew, until I was discouraged almost to despair. I had been using coffee three times a day for about twelve years. Several months ago I read an article in a religious paper telling about Postum Food Coffee, and I made up my mind coffee was causing my trouble. "So I shut down on the coffee, which was easy when I used Postum. My headaches grew more painful at first, but I was not surprised at this and was determined to let coffee alone and give Postum a fair trial. In a few days Postum had driven most of the drug effects of coffee out of my system. The headaches grew less and finally stopped altogether, and for the past three months I have been a different person. The headaches are all gone, my strength is coming back, nerves are steady and I feel rested in place of tired all the time. "I know it was coffee that caused all the trouble and I am certain that Postum is rapidly repairing all the wrongs that coffee caused. I always tell people when recommending Postum to be sure to make it according to directions; don't forget to boil it fifteen minutes." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Theatrical Notes.

Mr. Frank H. Holmes, in advance of French's Sensation, was in the city today arranging for the appearance of this well known show about the 13th.

French's Sensation is coming to Paducah. Two or three of these river shows have been here already this summer and French's will be here on August 13.

Mr. Roy Potter, formerly assistant treasurer of the Kentucky theater here, has just signed at Columbus, O., with Hutchinson Brothers minstrels, to do an acrobatic turn, and will tour the New England states this season. Mr. Potter's many friends here will wish him success.

The new band organized by the railway car men has now a membership of 39, the largest band ever organized in the city. The members all understand music and several are experts who have played with big bands before. The date for initial appearance has not been announced.

The picture of Miss Lillian Lancaster (Flora May Clark) in last week's New York Dramatic Mirror is one of the best ever published of this popular Paducah actress. The Mirror, in its article about her, compliments her very highly and predicts for her a career and success worthy of the state of Mary Anderson.

Cole Younger and Frank James wild west, formerly the Buckskin Bill show, organized by the Terrell Brothers, in Paducah, is coming to Kentucky and will show at Louisville August 17. James and Younger, the famous ex-bandits, are the stellar attractions and play an important part in the show, which will probably be in Paducah later.

The "Alexander the Great" fever, which attacked several stars simultaneously, seems to have subsided. James K. Hackett first abandoned his proposed production of "Alexander the Great," and now Richard Mansfield also retires from the same field, leaving only Frederick Warde and Louis James firm in their determination to produce an Alexander play.

Davis & Darcy, a new theatrical firm on Broadway, have secured two of Viola Allen's great successes, "In the Palace of the King" and "The Christian."

Isabel Evesson will be featured as Dolores in "In the Palace of the King" and Lionel Adams will play John Storm in "The Christian," while Bianca West will be the Glory Quayle.

The new firm will also send on tour a new melodrama by Owen Davis entitled, "The Road to Frisco," in which Elizabeth Breyer Davis (Mrs. Owen Davis) will play the soubrette role of Nell.

Lew Dockstader, the famous minstrel man, who has scored so heavily with his big organization of merry men at Manhattan Beach, was telling a little story to some friends at the Brighton track the other afternoon.

"Last season," said Mr. Dockstader, "I was in St. Joseph, Mo., and after the performance, while going to my hotel, I passed a little all-night lunch stand presided over by an old Irish woman. Her principal stock in trade was pies, and as I was hungry, I paused to look them over. I noticed that fully half of the pies had the letters 'T. M.' on the crust. The pies all looked alike, and I wondered what those initials were intended for. Pointing to one of them, I said to the old woman: "What do the letters 'T. M.' stand for?"

"She looked at the pie at which was pointing and replied: "That pie, sir, is mince pie, sir."

"Oh, I see," said; then all the pies marked "T. M." mean 'Tis Mince.' Is that the idea."

"Not quite, sir," she answered. "Some of the other pies marked 'T. M.' means 'Taint Mince,' sir."

Mr. Howard Anderson, who joined the navy five years ago, has returned to the city to make his home. He served his time out and has become a thorough electrician. For two weeks he visited his father at Henderson and arrived here Saturday. He stated that the navy was not what it was cracked up to be, but that he thought his experience paid for the time he spent on the seas.

MEMORABLE STORM

Yesterday Was the Anniversary of Tornado of '51.

Thirty-five Boats in the River and All
But One Blown Loose.

Yesterday, August 9, was the anniversary of the awful storm of 1851, when great damage was brought to the shipping interests of Paducah.
There were when the tornado struck thirty-five boats at the wharf, and every one of them except the Caroline
E. Walker was blown from its moorings and out into the river to fight against the wind and waves.

Two of them, the Oaledonia and Dover, were blown over out in the river, but fortunately no one was drowned.

It was the worst storm that ever visited Paducah, and only a few of the older inhabitants remember it. Councilman Joe Fowler, however, remembers it well. He never fails to remind other ornaments of Monkey Wrench corner of the anniversary when it comes around.

MURRAY COURT.

THE HOLLAND MURDER CASE
COMES UP TODAY.

Attorneys William Reed and John G. Miller of Paducah and Sam Crossland of Mayfield went to Murray this morning to attend the Calloway circuit court.

This morning the Holland murder case will come up for trial and also will the Gatlin, Administrator, case.
The former case will be prosecuted by Attorneys Reed and Crossland and the Gatlin case will be handled by Attorney John G. Miller for the plaintiff and Attorneys Wm. M. Reed, city and Frank Poston of Memphis for the life insurance company.

The Holland case will probably be called first and much interest is manifested in the outcome.

RAZOR USED

FULTON NEGRO PAINFULLY
CUT BY A TENNESSEE
DARKEY.

Will Jackson, of Fulton, was slashed on the nose, on the cheek, and behind the left ear by Walter Guthrie, a negro of Milan, Tenn., Saturday night at the Union depot. The principals in the difficulty had been here celebrating and jealousy is supposed to have been the cause. A razor was used and the wounds inflicted were painful but not serious. Guthrie escaped and Jackson was able to leave for home on the first train.

EIGHT ROUND DRAW

HURLEY RANDLE AND "ALABA-

"Alabama Kid" and Hurley Randal, the local colored pugilists, fought an eight round draw Saturday night at Rowlandtown park. They have met several times and the "Kid" last winter knocked him out at the Kentucky theatre, the two other fights being draws. About 500 spectators witnessed Saturday night's contest.

if necessary every one would sign a

SMASHED RECORDS

Saturday Was the Banner Day for Street Car Company.

Over 25,000 Fares Paid During the Day on Paducah's Various Lines.

Saturday was a record breaking day for the Paducah Street railway company. It has had many big days, but Saturday eclipsed them all in point of fares collected. There were from morning until the cars stopped about midnight, 25,000 fares collected, which breaks all previous one day's records. There was not an accident and the people were well handled and well behaved. The showing is most creditable for the company.

An Ant's Great Strength.

Mr. A. M. Miller recently weighed a small ant and a dead grasshopper which it was dragging to its nest. The weight of the grasshopper was found to be sixty times greater than that of the ant. The force exerted by the ant in dragging the grasshopper along the road was therefore proportionately equal to that of a man weighing 150 pounds pulling a load of four and a half tons, or a horse of 1,200 pounds, a load of thirty-six tons.

OUTING SPOTS IN THE NORTHWEST

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter-root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Couer d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. And don't forget that Yellowstone Park is the chief of all tourist shrines.

LAZARRE

MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD

(Based Upon the Mystery Surrounding the Fate of the Dauphin, Son of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette)

Copyright, 1901, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

"I wish I had not spoken at all. To tell you anything more would only plunge you into trouble. You are better off to be as you are than to know the truth and suffer from it. Besides, I may be mistaken. And I am certainly too helpless myself to be of any use to you. This much I will say. When you are older, if things occur that make it necessary for you to know what I know, send a letter to me, and I will write it down."

With delicacy M. Grignon began to play a whisper of a tune on his violin. I did not know what she meant by a letter, though I understood her. Mme. Tank spoke the language as well as anybody. I thought then, as I did after I had rushed back on my memory, that it was a universal language, with the exception of Iroquois and English.

"We are going to a place called Green Bay, in the Northwest Territory. Remember the name—Green Bay. It is in the Wisconsin country."

CHAPTER IV.

DAWN found me lying wide awake, with my head on a saddle. I slipped out into the dewy half light.

It was mid forenoon by the sun when I reached our lodges and sat down fagged outside my father's door to think longer before I entered. Hunger was the principal sensation, though we had eaten in the cabin the night before, and the Indian life inures a man to fasting when he cannot come by food. I heard Skenedonk talking to my father and mother in our cabin. The village was empty, children and women, hunters and fishermen having scattered to woods and waters.

"He ought to learn books," said Skenedonk. "Money is sent you every year to be spent upon him, yet you spend nothing upon him."

"What has he needed?" said my father. "He needs much now. He needs American clothes. He wept at the sight of a book. God has removed the touch since he plunged in the water."

"You would make a fool of him," said my father. "He was gone from the lodge this morning. You taught him an evil path when you carried him off."

"It is a natural path for him. He will go to his own. I stayed and talked with De Chaumont, and I bring you an offer. De Chaumont will take Lazarre into his house and have him taught all that a white boy should know. You will pay the cost. If you don't, De Chaumont will look into this annuity of which you give no account."

"I have never been asked to give account. Could Lazarre learn anything? The priest has sat over him. He had food and clothing like my own."

"That is true. But he is changed. Marianne will let him go. The strange boy may go," said my mother. "But none of my children shall leave us to be educated."

"I got up and went into the cabin. All three knew I had heard, and they waited in silence while I approached my mother and put my hands on her shoulders. There was no tenderness between us, but she had fostered me. The small dark eyes in her copper face and her shapeless body were associated with winters and summers stretching to a vanishing point.

"Mother," I said, "is it true that I am not your son?"

She made no answer.

"Is it true that the chief is not my father?"

She made no answer.

"Where sends money to be spent on me every year?"

Still she made no answer.

"If I am not your son, whose son am I?"

In the silence I turned to Skenedonk. "Isn't my name Lazarre Williams, Skenedonk?"

"You are called Lazarre Williams."

"A woman told me last night that it was not my name. Every one denies me. No one owns me and tells whose child I am. Wasn't I born at St. Regis?"

"If you were, there is no record of your birth on the register. The chief's other children have their births recorded."

I turned to my father. The desolation of being cut off and left with nothing but the guesses of strangers overcame me. I sobbed so the hoarse choke echoed in the cabin. Skenedonk opened his arms, and my father and mother let me lean on the Oneida's shoulder.

I have thought since that they resented with stoical pain his taking their white son from them. They both stood severely reserved, passively loosening the filial bond.

"All the business of life was suspended, as when there is death in the lodge. Skenedonk and I sat down together on a bunk.

The camp had never been nearer. I walked among the Indian children when the evening fires were lighted, and the children looked at me curiously as at an alien. Already my people had cut me off from them.

"What I learn I will come back and teach you," I told the young men and women of my own age. They laughed.

"You are a fool, Lazarre. There is a good home for you at St. Regis. If you fall sick in De Chaumont's house who will care?"

"Skenedonk is my friend," I answered.

"Skenedonk would not stay where he is tying you. When the lake freezes you will be mad for snowshoes and a sight of the St. Lawrence."

"Perhaps so. But we are not made alike. Do not forget me."

They gave me belts and garters, and I distributed among them all my Indian property. Then, as if to work a charm which should keep me from breaking through the circle, they joined hands and danced around me. I went to every cabin, half ashamed of my desertion, yet unspeakably craving a blessing. The old people variously commented on the measure, their wise eyes seeing the change in one who had been a child rather than a young man among them.

If the wrench from the village was hard, the induction into the manor was harder. Skenedonk took me in his boat, skirting the long strip of mountainous shore which separated us from De Chaumont.

He told me De Chaumont would permit my father to pay no more than my exact reckoning.

"Do you know who sends the money?" I inquired.

The Oneida did not know. It came through an agent in New York.

"You are ten years older than I am. You must remember very well when I was born."

"How can that be?" answered Skenedonk. "Nobody in the tribe knows when you were born."

"Are children not like the young of other creatures? Where did I come from?"

"You came to the tribe with a man, and Chief Williams adopted you."

"Did you see the man?"

"No. I was on the other side of the ocean, in France."

"Who saw him?"

"None of our people. But it is very well known. If you had noticed anything you would have heard the story long ago."

What Skenedonk said was true. I asked him, bewildered, "Why did I never notice anything?"

The Oneida tapped his bald head.

I began to wonder who was going to teach me books, and heard with surprise that it was Dr. Chantry.

Evidently Dr. Chantry liked me from the moment I showed fight. His Anglo-Saxon blood was stirred. He received me from Skenedonk, who shook my hand and wished me well before paddling away.

De Chaumont's house was full as a hive around the three sides of its flowered court. A ball was in preparation, and all the guests had arrived. Avoiding these gentry, we mounted stairs toward the roof and came into a burst of splendor.

The room which weaned me from aboriginal life was at the top of the central building. Dr. Chantry shuffled over the clean oak floor and introduced me to my appointments. He opened a closet door in the wall and showed a spiral staircase going down to a tunnel which led to the lake, for when De Chaumont first came into the wilderness and built the central house without its wings he thought it well to have a secret way out, as his chieftain in the old country had.

"The tunnel is damp," said Dr. Chantry. "I never venture into it, though all the corner rooms below give upon this stairway, and mine is just under yours."

It was like returning me the lake to use in my own accustomed way. For the remainder of my furniture I had a study table, a cupboard for clothes, some armchairs, a case of books and a massive fireplace, with chimney seats at the end of the room opposite the bed.

I asked Dr. Chantry, "Was all this made ready for me before I was sure of coming here?"

"When the count decides that a thing will be done it is usually done," said my schoolmaster. "And Mme. de Ferrier was very active in forwarding the preparations."

The joy of youth in the unknown was before me. My old camp life receded behind me.

Mme. de Ferrier's missal book lay on the table, and when I stopped before it tongue tied Dr. Chantry said I was to keep it.

"She gives it to you. It was treasured in her family on account of personal attachment to the giver. She is not a Catholic. She was brought up as good a Protestant as any English gentlewoman."

"I told her it was my mother's. It seemed to be my mother's. But I don't know. I can't remember."

My master looked at the missal and said it was a fine specimen of illumination. His manner toward me was so changed that I found it hard to refer to the lancet. This, however, very naturally followed his examination of my head. He said I had healthy blood and the wound was closing by the first intention. The pink cone at the tip of his nose worked in a whimsical grin as he heard my apology.

"It is not often you will make the medicine man take his own remedy, my lad."

We thus began our relation with the best feeling.

My master asked me when I wanted to begin my studies, and I said, "Now."

We sat down at the table, and I learned

"Open my door for me—quick!"

The English alphabet, some phrases of English talk, some spelling, and traced my first characters in a copy book. With consuming desire to know, I did not want to leave off at dusk. In that high room day lingered. The doctor was fretful for his supper before we rose from our task.

Servants were hurrying up and down stairs. The whole house had an air of festivity. Dr. Chantry asked me to wait in a lower corridor while he made some change in his dress.

I sat down on a broad window sill, and when I had waited a few minutes Mme. de Chaumont darted around a corner, bare armed and bare necked. She collapsed to the floor at sight of me and then began to dance away in the opposite direction with stiff leaps, as a lamb does in springtime.

I saw she was in pain or trouble, needing a servant, and made haste to reach her, when she hid her face on both arms against the wall.

"Go away!" she hissed. "S-s-s! Go away! I haven't anything on! Don't go! Open my door for me—quick—before anybody else comes into the hall!"

"Which door is it?" I asked. She showed me. It had a spring catch, and she had stepped into the hall to see if the catch was set.

"The catch was set!" gasped Mme. de Chaumont. "Break the door—get it open—anyway—quick!"

By good fortune I had strength enough in my shoulder to set the door wide off its spring, and she flew to the middle of the room, slamming it in my face.

Fitness and unfitness required nicer discrimination than the crude boy from the woods possessed. When I saw her in the hall room she had very little more on than when I saw her in the hall, and that little clung around her figure. Yet she looked quite unconcerned.

After we had eaten supper Dr. Chantry and I sat with his sister where we could see the dancing, on a landing of the stairway.

Miss Chantry was a blunt woman. Her consideration for me rested on my being her brother's pupil. She spoke more readily than he did. From our cove we looked over the railing at an active world.

"Mme. Eagle is a picture," remarked Miss Chantry. "Eagle! What a name for a civilized people to give a christened child! But these French are as likely as not to call their boys Anne or Marie, and it wouldn't surprise me if they called their girls Cat or Dog. Eagle or Crow, she is the handsomest woman on the floor."

"Except Mme. Annabel," the doctor ventured to amend.

"That Annabel de Chaumont," his sister vigorously declared, "has neither conscience nor gratitude. But none of the French has. They will take your best and throw you away with a laugh."

My master and I watched the brilliant figures swimming in the glow of wax candles. Where this assembly was collected from I did not know, but it acted on the spirits and went like volatile essence to the brain.

"Pheugh," exclaimed Miss Chantry, "how the French smell!"

I asked her why, if she detested them so, she lived in a French family, and she replied that Count de Chaumont was an exception, being almost English in his tastes. He had lived out of France since his father came over with Lafayette to help the rebellious Americans.

I did not know who the rebellious Americans were, but inferred that they were people of whom Miss Chantry thought almost as little as she did of the French.

Croghan looked quite a boy among so many experienced gallants, but well appointed in his dress and stepping through the figures neatly. He was, Miss Chantry said, a student of William and Mary college.

"This company of gentry will be widely scattered when it disperses home," she told us. "There is at least one man from overseas."

I thought of the Grignon and Tank families, who were probably on the road to Albany. Miss Chantry bespoke her brother's attention.

"There he is."

"Who?" the doctor inquired. "His highness," she inclusively responded, "Prince Jérôme Bonaparte."

I remembered my father had said that Bonaparte was a great soldier in a faroff country, and directly asked Miss Chantry if the great soldier was in the ballroom.

She breathed a snort and turned up on my master. "Pray, are you teaching this lad to call that impostor the great soldier?"

Dr. Chantry denied the charge and cast a weak eyed look of surprise at me.

I said my father told me Bonaparte was a great soldier, and begged to know if he had been deceived.

"Oh!" Miss Chantry responded in a tone which slighted Thomas Williams. "Well! I will tell you facts. Napoleon Bonaparte is one of the worst and most dangerous men that ever lived. He sets the world by the ears, and carries war into every country of Europe. That is his youngest brother yonder—that superfine gallant in the long tailed white silk coat down to his heels, and white small clothes, with diamond buckles in his shoes and grand lace stock and ruffles. Jerome Bonaparte spent last winter in Baltimore, and they say he is traveling in the north now to forget a charming American that Napoleon will not let him marry. He has got his name in the newspapers of the day, and so has the young lady. The French consul warned her officially. For Jerome Bonaparte may be made a little king, with other relations of your great soldier."

The young man who might be made a little king was not as large as I was myself, and had a delicate and womanish cut of countenance. I said he was not fit for a king, and Miss Chantry retorted that neither was Napoleon Bonaparte fit for an emperor.

"What is an emperor?" I inquired. "A chief over kings," Dr. Chantry put in. "Bonaparte is a conqueror and can set kings over the countries he has conquered."

I said that was the proper thing to do. Miss Chantry glared at me. She had weak hair like her brother, but her eyes were a piercing blue, and the angles of her jaws were sharply marked.

Meditating on things outside of my experience, I desired to know what the white silk man had done.

"Nothing."

"Then why should the emperor give him a kingdom?"

"Because he is the emperor's brother."

"But he ought to do something himself," I insisted. "It is not enough to accept a chief's place. He cannot hold it if he is not fit."

"So the poor Bourbons found. But they were not upstarts at any rate. I hope I shall live to see them restored."

Here was another opportunity to inform myself. I asked Miss Chantry who the Bourbons were.

"They are the rightful kings of France."

"Why do they let Bonaparte and his brothers take their place?"

Dr. Chantry turned from the promenaders below and, with slow and careful speech, gave me my first lesson in history.

"There was a great civil war in France called the revolution, when part of the people ran mad to kill the other part. They cut off the heads of the king and queen and shut up the two royal children in prison. The dauphin died."

"What is a dauphin?"

"The heir to the throne of France was called the dauphin."

"Was he the king's son?"

"The king's eldest son."

"If he had brothers, were they dauphins too?"

"No. He alone was the dauphin. The last dauphin of France had no living brothers. He had only a sister."

"You said the dauphin died."

"In a prison called the Temple, in Paris."

"Was the Temple a prison?"

"Yes."

Mme. de Ferrier had said her father and some other person did not believe the dauphin died in the Temple.

"Suppose he was alive?" I hazarded.

"Suppose who was alive?" said Miss Chantry.

"The dauphin."

"He isn't."

"Did all the people believe he was dead?"

"They didn't care whether he was dead or not. They went on killing one another until this man Bonaparte put himself at the head of the army and got the upper hand of them. The French are all fire and tow, and the man who can stamp on them is their idol."

"You said you hoped you would live to see the Bourbons restored. Dead people cannot be restored."

"Oh, the Bourbons are not all dead. The king of France had brothers. The elder one of these would be king now if the Bourbons came back to the throne."

"But he would not be king if the dauphin lived?"

"No," said Miss Chantry, leaning back indifferently.

My head felt confused, throbbing with the dull ache of hearing. I supported it, resting my elbow on the railing.

The music, under cover of which we had talked, made one of its pauses. Annabel de Chaumont looked up at us, allowing the gentleman in the long tailed silk coat to lead her toward the stairs.

CHAPTER V.

IT was so easy to avoid people in the spaciousness of De Chaumont's manor that I did not again see the young Bonaparte, nor any of the guests except Croghan. They slept all the following day, and the third day separated. Croghan found my room before leaving with his party, and we talked as well as we could and shook hands at parting.

FINED FOR CONTEMPT

Jack Whitesides Sent to the Lockup This Morning.

Found Guilty of Running a Disorderly Dance and Couldn't Hold His Tongue.

NEWS FROM OTHER COURTS

POLICE COURT

"Three Fingered Jack" Whitesides was this morning presented in Judge Sanders court on a charge of giving an immoral dance under a tent at Tenth and Court streets, at which it was alleged dissolute women assembled and got drunk. The dance was broken up by the police and Judge Sanders stated he was sure somebody would have been murdered a little later on if it had not been stopped.

Whitesides is a man who came here from Nashville and got into trouble almost the first thing. He was refused a saloon license several times by the council at the instance of the police and when Sam Jones was here some time ago claimed to be converted and declared he would not sell whiskey for any price. He did not bar immoral dances, however, it seems, and gave one Saturday night. He has tried to pose as a reformer of late and was talking of joining the Good Government League, according to the police. Judge Sanders this morning fined him $5 and costs, and Whitesides, who always does a good deal of talking, announced impudently that he wouldn't pay it. He was then fined $3 for contempt of court and sent to the lockup for three hours. He had previously been warned not to make any side remarks.

Mr. J. R. Gray was fined $5 and costs for a breach of the peace, but it seems the fault was not his, but resulted from a misunderstanding with another man.

Ed McKyle, — — Weatherspoon, Will Fields and Sam Jordan were fined $1 for plain drunks.

Charles Randolph and Herbert Wilson and Edgar Overton, colored, were fined $25 and costs and given ten days in jail for carrying concealed pistols. Other fines assessed were:

Rice Miller, $10 and costs, breach of the peace; Isaac Boaz, $5 and costs for breach of the peace; Jasper Gunn $10 and costs for jumping on and off a moving train. A case against Joe Travelstead for presenting a pistol was partially heard and left open. The case against J. J. Earnhardt, for a breach of the peace was continued until the 17th by Special Judge Ross.

A case against Laura Smith and Ida Moss, colored, for cutting Mattie Springer, colored, on the arm yesterday, was continued.

Mose Maxey was fined $10 and costs for a breach of the peace.

RIVES WILL FILED.

The will of the late Patt Rives, of the county, was today filed for probate. He bequeaths to his wife, Hattie Rives, 20 acres of land running through the center of his farm and including the homestead. To his daughter Emilie Rives he bequeaths 40 acres of land and to his son Lieburn Rives another tract of 40 acres, the latter to revert to his wife in case of death of the children.

ATTACHMENT

AGAINST A HORSE.

Charles Clark, the mail clerk, has attached a horse belonging to Mr. Herbert Hawkins to secure an alleged claim of $100. Clark claims that he and Hawkins swapped horses and that the latter was to pay $100 "to boot" which he failed to do and Clark attached the horse to force payment of the claim. The case will come up for trial August 18, Justice R. J. Barber's regular court day.

TAKEN TO REFORM SCHOOL.

Frank Waggoner was taken to the reform school at Lexington Saturday night by Captain Henry Bailey. He was arrested with another boy last week for house breaking and his family thought the reform school was the best place for him, hence there was no objection to his being taken there.

TRANSCRIPT FILED.

A transcript was today filed in circuit court by Dr. H. M. Cooley against the McCracken county fiscal court. The appeal was taken to secure payment of a claim of $130 for medical services rendered in this county during a small pox epidemic and which the county refused to pay.

THAT CONTEST

The Next Step is in Doubt at the Present Time.

Democrats Will Probably Not Vote for Lovett in This County.

Attorney L. K. Taylor this morning stated that he did not know what the next step would be in the contest for the Democratic nomination for commonwealth's attorney. At present there is talk of calling the judicial committee together again, but this could probably result in no good, as Chairman Edwards is for Lovett and Chairman Morrison for Taylor.

The Democrats in McCracken county, according to reports, are going to stick to and vote for Taylor, while those in Marshall county are going to stand by Lovett. The Democratic county committee of McCracken met Saturday, as told exclusively in The Sun, and repudiated Lovett as the Democratic nominee, and while this cannot deprive Mr. Lovett of his certificate of nomination, it shows the Democrats of this county will doubtless refuse to support him.

There may be no other developments in the case for several days. Justice Barber is still investigating the bogus ballot case and it is rumored that warrants will be issued some time this week if additional witnesses can be secured. The authorities claim they are on a hot trail and will continue their investigation indefinitely if necessary or turn it over to the grand jury when it meets again.
